Wedding Bells

HARKER — ZEMP

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zemp was the scene of a beautiful and quite wedding Thursday evening, when their daughter Edna, was married to Gerald Harker, of Magrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Harker, and grandson of Bishop Levi Harker, the father of Magrath. Only the immediate members of the families were present for the ceremony, which was performed by Bishop J. H. Walker.

The young couple, who are each 21 years of age, will make their home in Magrath, where the groom is engaged in farming with his father. Miss Zemp has been an active worker in the Church organizations of the ward, and will be missed in this capacity. The young couple are receiving the congratulations of their many friends and have the best wishes of their acquaintances for a long and happy married life.

KIRKHAM — POULSEN

Gray Kirkham, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Kirkham, and star forward of the Idlers lineup, and Miss Jasmine Poulsen of Magrath, surprised their many friends by a quiet marriage in Lethbridge Saturday afternoon last, when the nuptial knot was tied by Bishop O. W. Ursenbach of Lethbridge. Miss Sybil Bacon and Jack Vanderhilt were witnesses for the occasion.

The young couple are both popular and will have the best wishes of their many friends for success and happiness in their married life. The bride is a telephone operator in Magrath.

Old Folks Have Great Day Board of Trade Meets

With perfect weather for the occasion, the Annual Old Folks day was observed Wednesday and S. B. Card, as General Chair man, assisted by his wife and eleven other couple on the various committees, did themselves proud in the way in which they took care of Raymond's Honored Guests on that day.

Lunch, or we should say dinner, because it was far too sumptuous a spread to call lunch, was served shortly after 1 p.m. when 200 honored guests were served to a repast of the good things of the land, including chicken, turkey and all the trimmings. Besides these there were about 30 helpers, who also were feasted there. Then at 6 p.m. a light lunch was served to about the same number again, so that by the time lunch in the late afternoon was over, a great amount of food stuff had

DORIS KENYON MAGNIFICENT AS POMPADOUR IN MOST HANDSOMELY MOUNTED PICTURE OF DECADE

It is not easy to find the superlatives needed to properly review "VOLTAIRE" the new George Arliss picture, produced by Warned Bros., which opens Monday next at Brewerton's Capitol Theatre.

It is undoubtedly the greatest contribution to the screen Mr. Arliss has ever made, not excepting "Disraeli," which it most resembles, or "The Millionaire" or "The Working Man." Here is the most skillful performance this greatest of living actors has yet contributed to either stage or screen. He is the finest cast ever assembled for an Arliss production. Here, in short, is an amazing drama, spectacularly produced, magnificently staged and dramatically sound.

The regular Board of Trade meeting was held in the Town Hall last Monday with a good attendance present, and the Pres. Chas. O. Asplund in the Chair.

After the reading of the minutes, the time was turned over to Paul H. Redd and Melvin King, who gave interesting and instructive talks on the question of wheat acreage reduction and the need for this move, increasing carry overs resulted in depressing prices and glutting the markets, and from the present outlook the only remedy would be a reduction either in acres or bushes of the wheat crop, was the point of Mr. Redd's talk, and figures and statistics proved this point.

Mr. King stated that while the price was used as an excuse for not buying four years ago, because it was too high, that today with the low prices, Europe was placing an embargo on Canadian wheat and throwing up tariff walls to protect and encourage her own farmers, because our wheat price is too low, so that price was only an excuse. To his mind the bushel quota seemed the best remedy, and in exercising this means of reduction, he felt that the farmer should have some guarantee as to price, and also a guarantee that his quota would be taken each and every year.

Following this, a number of questions were asked and answered, and a great deal of valuable information given.

It was decided to proceed with a Stampede and Celebration for Dominion Day, which this year will be observed on Monday, July 2, as the 1st fall on Sunday.

Because of conditions it was decided that no Banquet would be sponsored this year.

The public meeting for February, announced elsewhere in this issue was spoken of, and it was decided to ask all neighboring districts to attend.

Theodore Ehlert of Magrath was a Raymond visitor on Wednesday.

It was an awful disappointment to the 700 fans who crowded the Opera House last Friday night to see the game gradually slip away from the Jacks, who left the floor at the end of the first half with a 19 point lead, and to have Lethbridge nose them out at the finish by a 1 point margin to win the game 39-38.

That just about tells the story in a few words. Starting with a flash of speed and accuracy in the first half that was invincible, the Jacks pounded the hoop for a total of 31 points while the Liberals were gathering up 12 scattered ones. To say it looked like Raymond's game, is putting it mildly, we thought it was a walk away, and while the Raymond fans were rejoicing and having their fun at the expense of the Lethbridge supporters, who were there in goodly numbers, the supporters of the Liberals were making the best of a bad matter and thinking up good alibis for the turn things had taken.

The second half started. We would like to know what the Liberals took during the intermission. But it must have been hokey pokey, or something else, because they came back onto the floor, and tore into the game like their lives depended on it. The Jacks were simply smothered, and every time they got the ball there was all the way from one to five Liberals right on top of them. The first 5 minutes of this period was practical scoreless, and the balloon went up. Lethbridge started pounding the pill through the hoop, and despite speed, fouls, and everything else of an offensive ball game they kept right on until with 20 seconds to go, forward, got the ball and snuck it home for the counter which put Lethbridge one up, and won the game for them, and the bottom dropped out of Raymond's world for that night.

There has never been a game in years, if at all where the interest was keener and the shouting and applause noisier than Friday night. Thinking was impossible, and if one spoke to his neighbor, it was necessary to

Paysonites Have Great Reunion

The annual Payson Reunion in the Opera House on Saturday afternoon and evening, was the best ever, according to those who attended. The first hour from 3 to 4 o'clock was spent in visiting and getting acquainted, so that by the time the crowd was called to order for the program, everyone had the strangeness worn off, and were ready to go ahead and enjoy the rest of the day.

The program consisted of musical numbers, reminiscences of by-gone days, comic readings, instrumental numbers, etc., contributed by people from various towns in Alberta. Paysonites being present from Barnwell, Claresholm, Cardston, and every town and village in between these points.

Roy Anderson was Master of ceremonies, and kept things moving from 4 o'clock on. At 5 p.m. the Refreshment Committee commenced the task of "feeding the multitudes," and according to one who was present this was accomplished, and from the stacks of food passed around, and that which remained, there was certainly no sign of any depression. The menu consisted of chicken sandwiches, fruit salad, pickles, punch, ice cream and cake. There was plenty for everyone and some to spare. Following lunch and until 9 p.m. games were indulged in, and the different types were such that everyone entered into the fun and enjoyed the time immensely.

About 9 p.m. the dance commenced, and with Thos. Allan, Mrs. Paul Dahl and Lief Erickson dispensing the music, the entire crowd entered in and enjoyed the dance. Mixing the old-time and the modern dances there was no excuse for anyone sitting on the sidelines, and few did, so that when quitting time arrived, the crowd dispersed after a merry time, and all will look forward with keen anticipation for next year's big party.

Officials responsible for the successful occasion were:

Pres. W. W. Depew, Sr. Vice-Pres.—C. E. Fawns. Secretary—Geo. Fairbanks. Reception Committee—D. G. Selman, Czar Fairbanks, D. M. Powelson.

Program Committee—Leroy Anderson, Dean Rolison, Earl Zemp.

Refreshments—The following gentlemen and their wives: W. W. Depew, Harry Fairbanks, C. E. Fawns, Leroy Anderson, George Fairbanks, and Mrs. J. V. Heggie.

Re Car Licenses

E. S. Hawk, Chief Constable of the Town has been asked by the Provincial Government to check up on operators of motor cars and see that they have 1934 license plates.

As already announced, the cut off date was February 1st, and since then we have been running cars at our own risk. The final paragraph of the letter to Mr. Hawk from E. Trowbridge, Deputy Provincial Treasurer, reads, "I have been asked by the Government to ask your co-operation in seeing that all motor vehicles now carry 1934 licenses."

It is hoped that this will be sufficient warning, and that no prosecutions will have to be made through negligence or disobedience of these orders.

A meeting of vital interest to ever hog raiser is scheduled for next Tuesday, likely at the for next Tuesday at the Opera House, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Every person interested in developing and holding our hog market should be there.

The British market is just opening up, and we as Canadian producers are fortunate in getting a very favorable quota in this market. But, the English man is particular about his bacon, and if we do not supply what he wants, the trade will go to Denmark or Ireland, where it would be very welcome. The right kind of hogs can be produced in Canada, but it takes more attention in breeding and feeding than we are in the habit of giving it.

On Tuesday a representative of the Packer's will exhibit and explain Wiltshire Bacon sides, and other speakers will explain how to obtain the best through breeding and feeding. If you want to receive top prices for what you produce, come out to this meeting with your note book, and then carry out by practice what you hear.

Only Lethbridge and Raymond in Southern Alberta, are having this meeting. Remember, next Tuesday.

An exhibition Basketball game, proceeds of which will go to the Local Boy Scout Council will be played between the Idlers and Magrath High School Monday night in the Opera House. Tickets 10c. each.

Nearly 800 View Art Exhibit Here

The Art Exhibit, which was at the Town Hall on Friday and Saturday of this week, attracted many visitors, and Mr. Garner, who was in charge, stated that approximately 800 had visited the exhibit, and he was very pleased with the support and with the interest exhibited in the various paintings and items on display.

The lectures given Friday evening and also Saturday evening, were both well attended, although the interest in the Basketball game on Friday not only lessened the attendance, but also made the lecture necessarily brief, as nearly everyone wanted to see the game. However on Saturday night the attendance was better, and the interest manifested was very pleasing to the lecturer.

The afternoon Friday was principally for the school students to visit and study the collection, and their interest & appreciation was pleasing to Mr. Mr. Garner stated that this was the primary object of the exhibit, to interest the rising generation in the appreciation of the artistic, and implant in them a desire to create paintings and drawings that would give expression to their finer sensibilities. From this point of view, the exhibit had been very successful, as there was good interest shown.

Of course, there were a great many adults visited the display, and none could leave without being impressed of the beauty of the scenes and portraits, and the patience, devotion and love that had actuated the artist in the pictures drawn in their souls. One could not help but appreciate the value of knowledge in knowing where and how to blend the colors to obtain the desired effects.

It is to be hoped that these exhibits will continue as the best interest in, and appreciation of them seems to grow year by year as they are brought back.

PRUNING SHADE TREES

Pruning well-established shade trees is a question quite frequently referred to this Station, and since the idea seems to prevail that pruning is actually denuding shade trees, ever so often is helpful and even necessary, a discussion of the question in this week's letter seems timely. Particularly so since pruning shade trees actually does little good and may do much harm. The practice is all too prevalent in some of our towns and cities and at this time of the year when so much of it is being done, the example in many cases is being followed by farmers.

First consider boulevard trees in our towns and cities. Here the question of utility must always be considered. If the trees are interfering with telephone or electric wires, either the wires must be removed to some other location such as an alley for instance, or the offending branches must be removed.

Where a tree is not interfering with wires or buildings, however, the less pruning that can be done the better since a tree not only becomes quite unsightly when its branches are lopped without regard for symmetry and form of the tree, but there is in fact no evidence to support the belief held by some that severe pruning, or bobbing as it should be called, will make a tree live longer. On the contrary, with species such as Russian poplar, cottonwoods and other poplars, the wounds of pruning, according to one leading authority, provide ready access to disease germs and when pruned the results are often disastrous within three or four years.

When trees are first planted on the prairie it is desirable to plant them close together so as to get quick results and this has been the usual practice in boulevards. After a number of years when the trees begin to reach maturity and attain heights of from 30 to 40 feet they begin to crowd. It is at this stage that a great deal of unnecessary and even harmful pruning is done. A much better practice than heading the trees back at this time is to systematically thinning of the trees: taking some of the trees out entirely by sawing them off at the surface of the ground. By taking out every other tree, or two trees and leaving the third, if they are very close together, plenty of room would be provided for the trees that are left and these instead of growing much taller would broaden out at the top, and not only would the top of the tree have more room for branch growth, but the roots would have extra soil to forage in and extra moisture to draw on.

Two rows of trees planted along one of the roadways at this Station nearly 25 years ago have just been thinned in this way. The cottonwoods, which were alternated with elms in these two rows, were all removed and this has left plenty of room for the elms to branch out fully and develop the natural, graceful form that is characteristic of this splendid shade tree. None of the trees left standing are being pruned in any way other than to remove any dead or broken branches or lower branches that might obstruct the roadway. Incidentally the cottonwoods that were removed provided a fine lot of fuel. One tree alone that was cut and piled separately yielded over a cord of split wood.

LAWNS

With 1934 we then prevailing here as this letter is being written the gardener plans to rake all of the lawn that was treated with a liberal dressing of well rooted manure earlier in the winter. The object of this raking is not to remove any of the manure, excepting possibly the longer straw, but rather to break up the lumps when thawed out and yet moist enough to break up easily. As much as 15 tons to the acre, or one ton to over 2900 square feet, is worked into the turf without smothering the grass. Manure applied to lawns in this way has proved very effective. The main objection to using manure is its unsightliness and somewhat objectionable odor when first applied. Chemical fertilizers including ammonium phosphate and ammonium sulphate are being used on part of the lawns with very good results. Methods and rates of application used will be dealt with in a future letter.

DRAUGHTS

A question that is frequently asked is —How am I to know that my room is properly ventilated? The simplest practical test is to step outside into the fresh air for a few minutes, and then return to the room. If the room is "stuffy," then it is not ventilated and the windows need to be opened.

Many people who quite agree that fresh air is desirable are afraid to ventilate their rooms because they fear a draught. There is only one kind of draft that is dangerous, and that is one which strikes and chills one part of the body.

You do not suffer ill effects from a breeze out of doors, and you will not suffer from one indoors, excepting, as we said, when it strikes one part of the body and chills that part.

Cool draughts along the floor should be avoided. When the feet are chilled by a draught along the floor, and the head is warm, the resistance is lowered and a common cold frequently follows.

None of these undesirable draughts is necessary in the ventilation of rooms. The window in winter is raised sufficiently to allow a movement of air in the room. Such a movement of air is hardly perceptible and is not at all chilling to the body.

Ventilation demands the use of a little common sense in picking the size of the opening of the window according to the temperature and direction of the wind.

Never fear draughts; just remember not to allow a breeze or current of air to chill one part of your body while the remainder is warm. Fresh air or cold air do not cause colds. Colds usually follow living in draughted, stuffy places, and the chilling of the body in one part, especially the feet, when the rest is warm.

Keep the feet dry. Damp or wet shoes result in chilled feet, and chilled feet pre-dispose to colds.

Have more of these happy days. You and all your family. Guard health while you have it. Keep on the sunny side of life.

The greatest enemy of health is common constipation. It may cause loss of appetite and energy. Certainly it kills enthusiasm! Yet it can be banished by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to relieve common constipation. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much pleasanter to eat this delicious ready-to-eat cereal than to take patent medicines. Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

OLD FOLKS HAVE GREAT DAY

Six cars were used for gathering up the people who were without a way of transportation, so that as far as the Committee knew, there were none missed the day's festivities who wished to be, and were able to be there.

During the afternoon, the following very interesting program was rendered which was enjoyed by the entire crowd:

Opening Address, S. B. Card Answering Pres. H. S. Allen Duet, Mr. and Mrs. J. Nilsson Violin Solo, Leif Erickson Quartette, Mrs. L. D. King and Co.

Toast to the Honored Guests Bishop Heber Allen

Toast to the Cook and People of Raymond, Bishop Jas. H. Walker

Selection, Howard Bros. Reading, Mrs. Pearl Keith

About 8:30 the dance started and from then until after midnight the hall resounded to the strains of Baltimore, Virginia Reel, Schottische, and many other old-time dances, and every one from the youngest to the oldest were out on the floor and were rehearsing the dances after twenty years of non-participation for many of them and many of the younger generation were trying them for the first time, and everyone had a big time and thoroughly enjoyed the entire evening. The reel was rather strenuous for some, the whirling took the ladies off their feet quite frequently but it was all fun and all enjoyed it.

shout to make him hear. Not only the game but many voices were lost during the evening, and many were squeaking away in a hoarse whisper trying to cheer their favorite on, in a voice that would not carry two feet away.

Every seat was taken, as many were standing as could stand and keep off the court, and tables, ladders and benches were loaded with hundreds standing. One table broke under the excessive weight, and 30 or 40 went down to the floor, but luckily no one was injured, and somehow or other, they all crowded in where they could see part of the game if not all. It was a nerve trying evening, and many lived the game over dozens of times during the night, before dawn brought either repose and forgetfulness, or else activity which caused one to forget. It has been the favorite topic of discussion ever since.

Well, there are no tabbies. Lethbridge fought an uphill battle during the second half and won, and that's that. Congratulations on the victory. Next time the two teams meet we hope Raymond takes revenge by a win.

Viney and Zemp had the whistles, and despite the crowd, and the excitement, they kept things well in hand throughout and were fair and just as usual in their decisions.

Don't forget that Town elections will be held Monday. If you don't vote, who can you blame if things don't go to suit you.

The regular monthly meeting of the Municipal Council was held Tuesday afternoon. Very little new business was considered, and the time was spent mostly in clearing the slate for 1934 and the new Council.

Kirkham was high man for the evening with 17 points, followed by Howard with a score of 16 counters.

In a snappy preliminary, the ladders defeated the Lethbridge Y Intermediates by a score of 52-20. This was a good game, but lacked enthusiasm from the side lines, probably because everyone was waiting and saving their energy for the big event of the evening.

The Town Council met last night and wound up the business of the year, passed the pay rolls and put things in shape for the new Council who will be on the job for the next session.

The little Betts girl was discovered asleep in a stubble field north of the aerodrome about 5 o'clock in the evening, absolutely worn out, having been gone from 9 o'clock in the forenoon. All the school children in the city had joined in the hunt before she was found.

Miss Verl Rolison entertained a number of her friends at a party at her farm home last Friday evening. There were sixteen guests present. Games were played in the fore part of the evening. A delicious lunch was served about ten thirty, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. A good time was enjoyed by all.
